Revenue continually reviews the ways in which it acts against this illegal activity, to ensure that it detects and seizes illegal cigarettes and carefully monitors trends and patterns in the illicit trade so that the response can be adjusted accordingly.

This resulted in a 2017 end of year most popular price category of €11.50 per pack of 20 cigarettes, and a Weighted Average Price of €10.71.

C215. Have you utilized the “Guidelines for implementation of Article 6 of the WHO FCTC” when developing or implementing policies in this area?

https://extranet.who.int/dataform/655321?token={TOKEN}&\_en

The Minister for Finance (Irish Finance Minister) takes cognisance of the Guidelines for the Implementation of Article 6 of the FCTC in preparing Budgetary strategy regarding the taxation of tobacco products and in providing for appropriate tax administration measures to control tobacco products. In line with the Tobacco Products Tax Directive (2011/64/EU) Ireland operates a mixed system of taxation. In line with the Guidelines, Ireland imposes a relatively high specific component, a relatively low ad valorem component, and a minimum excise duty. With regard to the periodic revisions of tobacco tax levels, successive Ministers for Finance have opted not to index tobacco tax rates, but rather to raise excise duty on a discretionary basis with regard to the exigencies of broader fiscal policy. In eight of the last ten years, Ministers have opted to increase the tobacco products tax, all increases above the rate of inflation. As outlined in 3.2.1.4, the Minister for Finance is aware of the need to ensure a similar tax burden is imposed on all tobacco products. For that reason, duty on fine-cut tobacco has been increased above the pro-rata level imposed on all other tobacco products in Budgets 2012 and 2015. This has brought the ratio of the excise burden on fine-cut tobacco relative to cigarettes from 0.64 in 2011, to 0.69 in 2015. With regard to the apportionment of revenues to tobacco-control programmes, Ireland does provide for the hypothecation of a nominal sum of €168 million of revenue from the Tobacco Products Tax annually to the Department of Health (Irish Health Ministry). Finally, it should be emphasised that Ministers for Finance make tobacco taxation policy with regard to the overall fiscal stance, so that from time to time, revenue raising may be a greater factor when deciding the quantum of any tobacco taxation increase.

C217. If you have any other relevant information pertaining to but not covered in this section, please provide details in the space below.

Quantitative restrictions apply to tobacco products brought into the State from outside the EU or from territories where EU rules on VAT and excise duties do not apply, such as the US or the Canary Islands. Where passengers arriving in Ireland have travelled from these areas, they may bring a maximum of 200 cigarettes or 100 cigarillos or 50 cigars or 250 grams of tobacco into the State tax free. In general, in accordance with EU law, tobacco products tax is not chargeable on tobacco products that are bought tax-paid by a private individual in another Member State of the EU, provided that the products are for the individual's own personal use and not for commercial purposes and are transported in person by that person into the State. However, in accordance with EU Directive 2008/118/EC, Ireland has imposed a quantitative limit of 300 cigarettes on the number of cigarettes which may be brought into Ireland without further payment of excise duty from Bulgaria, Croatia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Romania.

The Directive was transposed into Irish law by the European Union (Manufacture, Presentation and Sale of Tobacco and Related Products) Regulations 2016 and came into force on 20 May 2016.

The EU Commission has adopted three draft Implementing Acts providing the specifications for the system and discussions on these drafts. These Acts will be transposed into Irish law.

The traceability and security features systems shall apply to cigarettes and roll-your-own tobacco from 20 May 2019 and to tobacco products other than cigarettes and roll-your-own tobacco from 20 May 2024.

In addition, in 2014 the Irish Government approved the drafting of legislation to introduce, inter alia, a licensing system for the retail sale of tobacco products. The proposed licensing system will replace the current Tobacco Retail Register and will better regulate how tobacco products are sold and who sells such products. Work on the proposed legislation is ongoing.
